

New Patty Wagstaff web sites debut.

www.aerobaticsource.com now has DVD-style interactive feel.

(San Luis Obispo, CA) - Patty Wagstaff's AerobaticSource.com website recently debuted its new look. Designed to appear like an aerobatic school office, www.aerobaticsource.com provides a DVD-style interactive experience. The visitor can do a wide range of activities, from watching videos to purchasing merchandise to accessing message boards and more, by simply clicking on visual items on their computer screen. The new aerobaticsource.com site was engineered by FlightAdventures (FA).

Wagstaff ecstatic with the results.

"I am very happy with the work," says Wagstaff. "FlightAdventures has provided the look I want and more." Key objectives for the FlightAdventures design team were to optimize content access and incorporate the online interactivity provided by the <www.FlightAdventures.com> Virtual Pilot Center™ site. FA has online operators that can assist visitors or answer questions nearly 24 hours a day, 7 days a week. This is due to the worldwide participation in support of the FlightAdventures.com web site.

"Ultimately, we want all of Patty's sites to have the same interactive online features we provide at FlightAdventures.com," says Ben Chiu, founder and President of Flight Adventures. "Building community through online interactivity adds a tremendous amount of value and interest, and we intend to provide it for Patty's sites."

In addition to creating the new <www.aerobaticsource.com> site, FlightAdventures also simultaneously redesigned Patty Wagstaff's official fan site, <www.pattywagstaff.com>. Visitors to this site are immersed in the Patty Wagstaff Airshows activities. There is a detailed newsletter that chronicles Patty's activities, along with a complete listing of all her sponsors, her airshow schedule, detailed specifications of her airshow aircraft, an Extra 300S and more.
